Moberly is preparing to have some fine racing this spring. Why can't Sedalia have something like that?

Lebanon is to have a $100,000 hotel, electric lights and other metropolitan features in the near future.

Lawyer John Brooks Leavitt, of

New York, has evidently been touched up by some live newspaper. A dog will howl when hurt.

It is needless to say that there will be a great deal of traveling for awhile. The latest cut of all is by the Missouri Pacific railway. One dollar from St. Joseph to St. Louis.

The democratic convention of the Second congressional district will be held at Salisbury June 17. So far as heard from Congressman C. H. Mansur will have no opposition.

Circuses are getting to be very numerous. They are all around Sedalia. Moberly, Parsons, Springfield and numerous other places are being favored by the "Monster Shows."

Why can't the New York York

World let Louisiana run her own af-airs? Does that paper think for an instant that all the brains in the country are employed on its staff?

The city Marshal of Jefferson City has occupied that position for ten years. He is such a familiar figure on the streets that every town cow in the corporation knows him, and keeps out of his way.

In the case of Henry, of Colorado vs. Travelers Insurance company, of Conn., which has been pending in the courts for five years, was decided a few days ago in favor of the insurance company. It involves nearly $100,- 000.

The Jefferson City Tribune thinks it an awful thing that over twenty-five days of eight working hours each, were squandered by the last legislature on roll calls. It is not certain that this was not pure gain to the state.

Dilatory tactics often keep legislative bodies out of more harmful mischief.

The New York World says: "The thing out is a 'Want' contest.

$200 will be given by that paper to the advertiser, who, during May receives the largest number of legitimate answers to one, three line 'Want,' and $100 will be given to the person securing the best situation through the World's want column.

Salisbury is rapidly coming to the front. This week an elegant opera house was formally opened, and they have a canning factory, plug tobacco factory and a large flouring mill under headway. There is no telling what a town can do if its business men stick together. Look at Sedalia, for instance.

At San Antonio, Texas, Tue-day, Alexander Dunbar, a union bricklayer, assaulted a young man by the name of Louis Martin. Martin has a widowed mother and a sister to support and because he went to work to get bread to save them from starving he was nearly killed, his arm broken and badly used up. Now, if union men think they will make anything by such actions they are greatly mistaken. Dunbar was only fined $15, where he ought to have had $500.

With the exception of Carthage,

Springfield and St. Joseph, the democrats now have control of every important city in the state. In St.

Joseph the council is tied as between the parties. This don't look much like a republican victory in the fall, or at any other time in the distant future.

And it will not be long before the democrats will have those very few exceptions. People are beginning to see that the republican platform is a humbug and a fraud, perpetuated on the interest of a few industries with more money than they know what to do with.

In Pittsburg the other day an electric car got loose and started off down a grade. A gentleman in the car stepped to the motor man and sent him in the car and then assumed control himself. He succeeded in getting the speed slackened as the car struck a curve, Mr. E. A. Moxwell, the hero's name, was thrown from the car and almost killed. He will hardly live. Thus it is, that men go plodding a long through life till it comes time for them to strike their lick—they strike it and die. It is better that one man should die that many may live.

The editor of the Mexico Ledger is a member of the Mexico city council.
 At a recent meeting of the board in the absence of the Mayor, he presided. On the adoption of a resolution the vote was a tie. He declared the resolution adopted and directed the clerk to record the Mayor as voting in the affirmative, that he was in the city and unavoidably absent, and were he present, would so-vote. This ruling, the chair in explanation stated, was in line with the rules and orders of the present Federal House of Representatives, always recognized as the highest authority, meaning of course that tryant, Reid, on that subject in this country.

At a meeting of the Common Wealth club, in New York, the subject of discussion was the newspapers. During his speech, Lawyer John Brooks Lavitt gave utterance to the following sentences:

"Another remedy would be what I shall call a Scandal Trust. When there is a scandal let there be a conclave of editors to determine if the matter shall be published or not.
 Let there be an association of editors to prevent the perpetuation of existing evils and abuses in publishing private family matters. If the editors will not attempt to purify their papers then bring down the strong arm of the law."

President W. J. Coombs said he could not see that any of the alleged remedies offered were feasible. The public likes scandal or else it would not be printed. The newspapers were abashed and, in most cases, in advance of public sentiment. He himself always looked at the "scare heads" first when he glanced at his morning newspaper.

Mr. Coombs is exactly right.

Herbert Gladstone's Personality.

Herbert Gladstone, on a visit, is a man rather below the medium height, with thin hair, a dome-like forehead and an air of gentle melancholy. He is a great favorite at all of the women's meetings and the general conventions for promoting woman suffrage in England. He has been called "the 5 o'clock tea statesman." He affects extreme simplicity of attire, wearing turnover collars, the smallest sort of a black shoestring cravat and clothes that are not conspicuous for their good fit or fine texture. It is said that he is of great assistance to his distinguished father in managing the Grand Old Man's correspondence.

The Problem Solved.

AN UNRIVALED BLOOD PURIFIER.

Found at last in Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup—a remedy which expels all poisonous matter and taints of disease from the blood. A well known citizen of West Lebanon, Ind., testifies to its value:

GENTLEMEN: It affords me pleasure to state that my wife has received greater benefit from Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup than any medicine she has ever taken.
 We have used six bottles, and find it the best family remedy and the greatest blood purifier that we have ever used. It is truly all it is claimed to be by its founder.
 You cannot recommend it too highly.
 Yours truly,

—Carter's Little Liver Pills will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Ask your druggist for them.

TURF NOTES.

The attendance at the spring racing at Lexington, Ky., has been unusually good this season.

J. D. Patton has sold Eufaline, 2, by Duke of Kent, dam Mary Betchany, to M. R. Beatty.

—Those two fine horses, Jess Armstrong and Le Premier, are among the late arrivals at the St. Louis fair grounds from Nashville.

—Yesterday there was no racing at the St. Louis course because of unfavorable weather. The entries stand for Thursday.

—Capt. Franklin arrived at the fair grounds in St. Louis with the balance of his stable from Louisville, Ky., yesterday morning. Eight horses composed the lot.

—The $500 silver cup donated by Western Gas association, which convenes here next week, is on exhibition at Mermont-Jaccard's. It will be raced for at the fair grounds on Friday, May 23.

—Pinico race track at Baltimore, Md., is in good condition. 1,500 people were out at the course yesterday. Good trotting and pacing is reported.

Plays From Novels.

Pittsburg Dispatch.
 The successful novels or stories that have been dramatized with favorable results, artistically and financially, are few. It has been noted by many critics that the more agreeable a book is to the reading public the less likely is the story, which it embodies, to please when set upon the stage.

When Dickens's novels were at the height of their popularity a great many attempts were made to turn them into plays which should take rank with the books. Almost every one of Dickens's novels was so adapted for the stage, but with but one or two exceptions the resultant plays were dismal failures, and even those that escaped condemnation in the bright sunlight of the author's popularity have obtained it since.

More recently examples have occurred of most popular novels failing as plays. Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" attracted more attention than any book in the year in which it was published. Mr. Mansfield made a notable attempt to extend the weird charm of the story to a play; but, though he brought no little skill and historic art to his task, as a drama, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" was not a success.

SYRUP OF FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will pro-
